Vincent Van Gogh

Vincent Van Gogh was a Dutch Post-Impressionist painter who is considered one of the most influential artists in the history of Western art. He is best known for his vibrant, expressive paintings of landscapes, still lifes, and portraits.

Van Gogh was born in the Netherlands in 1853. He worked as an art dealer, a teacher, and a missionary before deciding to become an artist. He began painting in 1880, and he developed his own unique style, characterized by bold brushstrokes and intense colors.

Van Gogh's work was not well received during his lifetime. He only sold one painting during his lifetime, and he died in poverty in 1890. However, his work was later rediscovered, and he is now considered one of the greatest artists of all time.

Some of Van Gogh's most famous works include "The Starry Night," "Sunflowers," and "Irises." His paintings are now on display in museums around the world, and they continue to inspire and amaze people to this day.

Leonardo Da Vinci

Leonardo Da Vinci was an Italian Renaissance artist, inventor, and scientist. He is considered one of the greatest painters of all time, and his work has had a profound impact on the development of Western art.

Da Vinci was born in Italy in 1452. He studied art under the Italian painter Andrea del Verrocchio. Da Vinci was a master of many disciplines, and he was also interested in science, mathematics, and engineering.

Da Vinci's most famous works include the "Mona Lisa," "The Last Supper," and "The Vitruvian Man." These works are known for their beauty, their realism, and their enigmatic quality.

Da Vinci died in France in 1519. He is buried in the Church of Saint Florentin in Amboise.

Michelangelo Buonarroti

Michelangelo Buonarroti was an Italian Renaissance sculptor, painter, architect, and poet. He is considered one of the greatest artists of all time, and his work has had a profound impact on the development of Western art.

Michelangelo was born in Italy in 1475. He studied art under the Italian painter Domenico Ghirlandaio. Michelangelo was a master of many disciplines, and he was also interested in science, anatomy, and engineering.

Michelangelo's most famous works include the "Pietà," the "David," and the "Moses." These works are known for their beauty, their power, and their emotional impact.

Michelangelo died in Italy in 1564. He is buried in the Basilica of Santa Croce in Florence.
